A "Hello!" From Vonda Billman

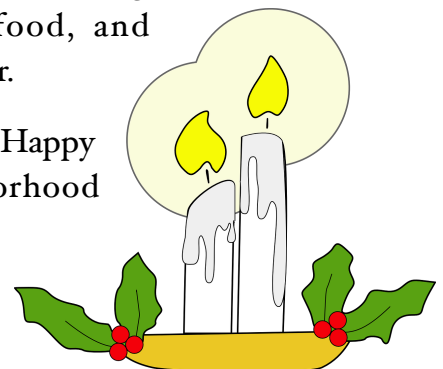

Next Step PIC's New Office Director

Hi! I'm Vonda Billman, the new Office Director at Next Step PIC. I recently moved to La Grande from John Day after my husband's temporary job appointment became permanent. I wish I could say the relocation was a joyous one but that's not totally accurate... I lived in John Day for over 40 years and called it home, but life has a funny way of changing. Perhaps you're familiar with the way eagles raise their young: as the babies mature the mother daily removes feathers from the nest until it becomes unbearable, forcing the little ones out of their comfort zone so they can soar... That is where I am today, out of my comfort zone and taking leaps of faith.

Professionally I have over 31 years combined experience in Office Management and Human Resources administration that I bring to Next Step. But more than my professional experience I bring a servant's heart to serve the community of Union County and Next Step's clients, workers, volunteers and board of directors. My desire is to enrich the lives of our clients and their families through the many services that Next Step offers.

My husband and I have four grown sons who are in various stages of their life: Married, engaged and dating. We also have four grandchildren whom we adore. We love gathering together, laughing and bantering back and forth with one another. I am especially looking forward to this Christmas Season, sharing our lives and love, eating wonderful food, and celebrating Christmas and the New Year.

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year! If you're in the neighborhood please stop by and say hi!
